London Northwestern Railway: Passengers reminded of upcoming timetable change

Passengers travelling with London Northwestern Railway (LNR) are being reminded that timetable changes come into effect this weekend.

The changes come into effect from Sunday 2 June and passengers are being reminded to check their journeys.

As a result of the changes, LNR services will be subject to small amendments to help manage busy areas of the network that are shared with other train operators.

Jonny Wiseman, LNR customer experience director, said:

“Timetables are changing on Sunday 2 June and I urge passengers to double-check their travel plans as timings may have changed. The timetable has been developed with feedback from passengers and communities taken into account and the changes have been brought in to provide passengers with a more robust and better-performing overall service.”
